APPRECIATED but by few, college buildings were unused during the four summer months: Pinehurst and Cloverleaf, freshman wamen's dorms; Woolson and Sullivan Houses, scene of English classes; Knowles Hall, the Science building, gift of Mrs. Frances Knowles Warren; and the Marse Art Gallery, classroom and gallery of the art department.

CENTERS of activity during the college year; the Beal-Maltbie Shell Museum; the Administration Building, best known as the "ad" building or "Pink Palace"; the Alumni House, owned and operated by the Rollins Alumni Association; the Student Center, housing the college post office, bookstore, and soda fountain; and the Annie Russell Theatre.

Familiar Scenes

STILLNESS ond calm prevoiled in now empty dormitories as upperclassmen pocked their things ond left for o four month respite, leoving the summer stoff to wotch over the buildings. The woterfront was oppreciоted by only o few compus visitors; soiling, swimming, ond conoeing under the mid-summer sun.

low Deserted

FAMILIAR campus scenes, strange without the activity of students and faculty: the garden between the Annie Russell Theatre and the Knowles Memorial Chapel, the Sullivan House and Orlando Hall, and the often-admired chapel tower from a seldom-seen angle.

REPAIRS on a dishwasher steam machine underneath the Beanery were capably handled by maintenance staffer Ham MacDonald.

Maintenance Staff Prepares Campus For Another Year

DAVELLA MILLS FOUNDATION gift, the $525,000 Mills Memorial Library houses 81,000 volumes and 200,000 periodicals. The spacious T-shaped building has two main floors containing rare books, periodical and reserve reading rooms, map rooms, offices and a record library. The basement houses WPRK F.M. studios, a microfilm room, photostat laboratory and darkroom, and projection studios. In addition, five tiers contain book stacks, study alcoves, and faculty conference rooms, available at all times to faculty, staff, students, and members of the college community.

Behind Ad Building Walls; Many Busied Office Staffs

VACATION TIME for students meant only continued work for office staffs. Behind the walls of Rollins' busy "Pink Palace" the President's and Deans' offices plugged away with plans for '54. The Treasurer's and Cashier's offices counted pennies, public relations sent out countless publicity releases, and the admissions staff at last saw an end to application forms, while the registrar and her assistants prepared catalogues and forms for soon-to-return students.

ADMISSIONS counselor Tom Mikula studied state files on incoming students with Jack Rich.

COUNSELOR Malcolm Scott scanned bulletins from schools and colleges with Patty Tripp.

Admissions Covers Country

MAPS FROM EVERY STATE and many foreign countries were checked by the staff, Patty Tripp, Director Jack Rich, Betty Lee Herron, and Mrs. Royle Howard, as they computed records on prospective students for the fall of '53.

COFFEE AND CONFERENCES were combined as Dean Edwin Walker gave instructions to secretaries Sylvia Miller and Cynthia Eastwood. 530 incoming students converged on the administration building during the week of registration.

Facts, Files And Figures For The Ad Building Staff

PUBLICITY was well handled by Director Don Vincent, Secretary Katherine McClelland, and Jane Thibodeau.

DEANS Justice and Day, and Secretary Miss Fairchild, prepared the office for the expected students.

COMPUTING expected tuition and student ossociotion fees for the coming yeor occupied the time of Coshier Miss Chloe Lyle, ossistont Dodi Monning, and Secretory Leona Lyle.

STAFF CONFERENCES were sondwiched between meetings and oppointments. Vice President Dr. A. J. Honno tolked with his Secretory, Mrs. Ruth Witherell, ond ossistonts Mrs. Rodmon Lehman ond Mrs. Georgia Phillips.

PRESIDENTIAL MATTERS were cored for in the puter office by Carlene Floyd, Morilyn Shepherd, and presidentiol odvisor Dr. Wendell Stone.

HIGH FINANCE, discussed by Mrs. Jane Corr, Miss Mildred Johnson, Mr. Horold Mutispaugh, Mrs. William Crossley, Mr. Fred Word and Vice President-Treosurer Mr. John Tiedtke.

ALL PHASES af library work were capably handled by Mrs. Robins Mrs. Blasick, Miss Scudder, and Head Librarian Mrs. Hansen

Books, Books, & More Boooks!

SNACK TIME! Mrs. Hendersan, Mrs. Baldwin, and Mrs. Martin taak time aut far coffee and coakies. The Mills Memarial library has a complete kitchen and adjaining staff launge.

BEHIND THE SCENES warkers: Mrs. Aida Jahns, Miss Jane Swansan, Miss Ann Weaver, Mrs. Lucy Lacey, Mrs. Larena Graham, and Mrs. Barbara Graham warked in the library staff raams.

In Every Building, A Busy Office Staff

PINK PILLS AND POTIONS were ordered by Miss Nichalas, Dr. Walter Jahnsan, and Miss Plummer, Rallins' infirmary staff. Mr. and Mrs. Mays (seated) and Mrs. Stewart planned the aperation af the famed Beanery, while Dean Darrah and Secretary Miss Clara Adalfs checked the schedule far use af the Chapel. Baseballs and tennis nets were discussed by Sara Jane Darsey, Jack McDawall, Jim McDaugall, Janet Pattan, Dan Nyimicz and Fleet Peeples, physical educatian staff.

For Residence Heads, Another Year

ONE LAST BRIDGE GAME was enjoyed before hundreds of students invaded the dorms. Concentrating and kibitzing were Mrs. Payne, Miss Rogers, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. Burke, and Mrs. Warren, directors of college dormitories.

LETTERS WERE READ ond news exchanged over breakfast by Mrs. Reid, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Burke, and Mrs. Weber. Only Mrs. Morris overslept, missing the get-together.

LAST MINUTE FINISHING TOUCHES were put on the choir robes by Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Leland, Mrs. Rockwood, Mrs. Hallenberg, and Mrs. Pancoast. Residence heads also acted as hostesses for weekend visitors to the Morse Art Gallery.

ALL MANNERS OF LOCOMOTION returned the Rollins faculty to compus. Dr. Johnson ond Professor Wolff took to the high seos in o not-too-stoble-looking collopsible boot, while President McKeon mounted "Molly" for o pre-college-seoson ride around the compus. Hi Ho Silver!

Faculty Returns By Land And Sea

A HALF CONVERTED CONVERTIBLE served its purpose for Mr. Greenfield, while world chompion woter skier Mr. Suydom took to the woter, ond returned to campus borefoot, vio Lake Virginio.

In Memoriam

MRS. FRANCES KNOWLES WARREN

There are many ways one can serve a college. You can help build it by adding structures to its campus. You can strengthen it by increasing its endowment funds. You can add to its daily life by taking part in its various activities. You can give it vitality by leading others to know, love and support it. You can give it stability and direction by speaking sternly to the president when he needs it.

Mrs. Warren served Rollins College all of these ways and in countless others too. We are sad at Rollins because we loved her and because her passing quietly marks the end of an era.

As we look to a future without this dear, great little lady we plan to honor her memory by building a college worthy of her faith in it and in us.

HUGH F. McKEAN

The Faculty of Rollins College feels a deep sense of loss at the passing of Frances Knowles Warren, as a good woman, a benefactor and a friend. She leaves with us a deep sense of her stewardship, her loyalty to the past, and faithfulness to the present and to the future. Her devotion to Rollins College and her concern for young people have been plainly evident in our College Community.

We will always remember her as one who was forthright in her convictions, a lady of good taste, and honest conscience; one who lived her obligations in natural piety.

She was always our steady and fast friend. Her presence goes, but her spirit and courage will ever be a part of the heart and affections of the College.

Cops And Robbers Open A.R.T.

The popular drama, "Detective Story," by Sidney Kingsley was the first offering at the Annie Russell Theatre. Featuring Howard Bailey, Director of the Theatre, as Detective McCleod, his wife Jenelle as his stage wife, and an excellent supporting cast, five sell-out performances were presented.

The settings designed by Richard Verigan contributed much to the show. The authentic police department atmosphere was remarkable in its scope.

Thus Annie Russell patrons were given an indication of many fine productions to follow, both in Rollins' Annie Russell and Fred Stone Theatres.

BOB TOWNSEND, George Saute, Carleton Clark, Robert Cannon and Howard Bailey all turned on George Lindsey in "Detective Story."

POWDER AND ROUGE held the spotlight as actors applied their makeup before curtain time was called.

Never-to-be-forgotten were the many parties which spiced our year at Rollins. Whether "stag" or "drag," students joined together over cokes, cocktails, or beer; around campfires, in dormitory living rooms or at the beaches to relax and enjoy each other's company. Many a time the disheartening loss of an intramural game was made more bearable by an ensuing party. The arrival of a weekend brought with it sorority and fraternity parties; sand, surf, and sun spelled fun at the Pelican, while tulle dresses, white coats, soft music and moonlight meant long-to-be-remembered formal dances at Dubs. During the week open houses provided a welcomed interlude from the books, when pledge classes entertained students with refreshments and music between library and closing hours. Rollins students extended their welcome to visiting teams or out-of-town fraternity or sorority visitors who too enjoyed Rollins' social life. Like the tingling warmth of a glowing fire, the fun at Rollins was ever present, welcomed and enjoyed throughout the year.

Under the able guidance of their new coach, Dan Nyimicz, the Rollins basketball team completed the first winning season in recent years. The Tars got off to a fast start, winning six out of their first seven games, and went on to compile a seventeen won, thirteen lost record. Joining veterans Bob MacHardy, Bill Cost, Nick Vancho, Jim Cook, Julian Cunningham, Connie Butler, and Jim Bocook were freshmen Dick Costello, Dave Feldman, Hal Lawler, Al Fantuzzi, Frank Swanson and Ra Moody. There must have been even distribution of ability, because most of the boys started at one time or onother and there was no set five. Scoring, too, was evenly distributed as the Tars once again were paced by Captain Bob MacHardy.

The first of the season was highlighted by on away win over Stetson. The Blue and Gold ended the Hatters' home-court supremacy by a slender three-point margin in a game that had the crowds standing during the entire fourth quarter. By the time the Christmas holidays rolled around, the boys had an eight-four record to take home, including state victories over Tampa, Florida Southern, and Stetson. At this point Rollins occupied the driver's seat on the road to the mythical state championship. Upon return, a strong Florida State five dimmed Rollins' state crown hopes with an 82-72 win in the Winter Park gym. Two weeks later, the same F.S.U. team virtually clinch first place as they set the hopeless Tars down 85-68.

On January 29 the rejuvenated Tars began w proved to be a seven game winning streak. Starting w Bartow Air Force Base, the Rollins quintet proceeded defeat one strong team after another. Miami, Merc Tampa, and Erskine went down before the accurate sho ing Nyimicz men. The Mercer victory was especi gratifying as Dan Nyimicz had just completed a two-y reign as head coach at the Macon school. It was also first time Rollins had been able to come out on the l end of the score since the rivalry began in 1951. Ersk came to town on February 20, riding the crest of a sev teen game winning streak and rated as one of the teams in the South. The Tar courtsters were unimpres and the final score saw them on top 75-69. The te qualified for the N.A.I.A. playoff which was held in Ma on February 27. The Mercer Bears revenged their previ loss with an 88-62 win before a packed house, and team came home for a well earned rest.

Coach Nyimicz has high hopes for next year's squ Only Julian Cunningham was lost from this year's te and with the addition of a few "big boys" to help out un the boards, the Blue and Gold should win more than th share. Rollins' basketball is on the upgrade.

Bill Cost grabbed the rebound from his taller opponent in the Georgia Teachers gome; Nick Vancho scored on a bo hand lay-up against Miami before a packed house; two Mercer players watched as Al Fantuzzi dropped in two poi

Classes And Conferences End For Winter Term

CLASSES THROUGHOUT THE YEAR found students seated around the conference round tables, in science labs, at work behind easels or the sketch pad, seated at the piano, or acquiring knowledge with the informal background of the lakefront class or individual conference. The exchange of knowledge through lectures, and discussions between professor and student, as well as the practical application of gathered information, were the varied ways in which the Rollins student acquired a broad knowledge of the many phases of the courses he followed. Hours were spent everywhere; from the Annie Russell Theatre's basement with its course in make-up techniques, to the second floor of Lyman Hall with its political science and business courses; and so another term come to an end.

STAFF JOINED STUDENTS in the classroom, as Mrs Poyne completed an oil painting in Mrs. Taylor's class

FROM ARCHITECTURE TO ENAMELING, the art student could find a wide variety of courses in his field. Jim Doran worked away on his statue; Steph Swicegood consulted Mrs. Taylor on her landscape drawing; Jon Reas and Bebe Boothby turned out ash trays, dishes, and jewelry with colorful enamel designs; Liz Hudgins completed her notebook as Sam Borley sanded a rough spot on his model home; Betty Merrill waited anxiously for Mr. Tasker to finish her enamel work; Miss Artmeyer stood by to give advice to sculpture students Joan Wilkinson, Tom Hulihan, and Lois Schultz.

THE SCIENTIFIC METHOD was well impressed upon chemistry, biology, and physics majors who worked many long hours on involved technical experiments related to their fields. Lost amongst bottled powders and solutions Louis Garrard searched for a needed chemical. Biology student Chuck Lambeth studied the slide box, as a stuffed loon studied Chuck. Dr. Carroll instructed Bill House in the workings of an intricate chemical experiment.

PRE-MED STUDENT Dick Lesneski reached far chemicals needed in ane af his many lab experiments.

Test Tubes, & Slide Rules

SCIENCE STUDENTS spent time in Knawles Hall working individually an their experiments, ar with the instruction af faculty members and undergraduate assistants. Jae Mulsan tangled with wires and batteries in solving a physics problem. Jahn Opdyke worked behind the powerful lens af a microscape in the bialagy lab. Mr. Suter instructed Sam Barley in the accurate measurements of a slide rule.

LIBRARY DATES were the only dates when papers, reports and tests took precedence over any other end-of-the-term activity. Amidst a storehouse of knowledge in the library stacks a student found the atmosphere lonely but conducive to uninterrupted concentration and study.

A SERIOUS SOPHOMORE investigoted and analyzed facts, theories and trends in books stacked high enough to block thoughts of spring vacation, while a sage senior, bubble-blowing and bermuda-shorted, relaxed but pensive, was intent on "Life."

CENTER-SITTING was always a favorite between-class pastime at Rollins. Students found time for a quick game of bridge, a mid-morning snack, or a discussion on topics varying from campus activities to a current world problem. Here also students found time to have an informal chat with their professors over a cup of coffee or a coke.

VACATION SPIRITS were kept alive at the Kappa Alpha Theta-Sigma Nu all-college dance which also served to highlight Rollins' Baseball Week.

Begins As Vacation Ends

REGISTERING FOR SPRING TERM, entering students Mary Lou Voor, Scott Watrous, Hugh Foreman, and Harvey Weisenberg were immersed in catalogues, course cards, and schedule sheets. The only visible factor distinguishing this group of new students from those of other terms was the change in male-female ratio.

To Open Fiesta

More elaborate than ever, the Fiesta parade wound through Winter Park and Orlando on Friday afternoon, led by President McKean on his horse, and the Edgewa High School band. Brightly colored balloons and an attractive archer were seen atop the Gamma Phi's float, while Theta mermaids posed in an underwater wonderland The S. S. Phi Mu was trailed down the stream by the KA's steamer "R. E. Lee." The winning float in the men division was the X Club's depiction of activities at Rollins The Sigma Nu float presented a beautiful setting for their Fiesta Queen candidate.

Gala Parade

The Lambda Chi's substituted quality for quantity with their miniature entry, a well-decorated motorscooter. An Easter basket of animated chicks represented the Alpha Phi's, while a matador, toreador, and blase bull posed atop the Pi Phi's float. The Stray Greeks appeared in a scene from ancient Athens. Winner in the women's class was Kappa Kappa Gamma, with a tremendous teddy bear. It cleverly represented their "Win a Bear" booth on the carnival midway.

DIGNITY WAS DROPPED for an afternoon as the faculty staff presented their version of a very mellow drama called "The Old Homestead," or "Jack to the Rescue." Mr. Tasker, alias Jack the brave hero, watched the proceedings from backstage waiting for his cue. The audience of faculty staff, students and townspeople booed, hissed, cheered, and threw pennies and peanuts at the bewildered actors.

CONFUSION REIGNED as a wintry blast blew snow and little Mary Brown Tripp into the already muddled situation.

DIRECTOR Howard Bailey kept the inexperienced faculty cast ever aware of his presence, as he shouted directions at actors from the orchestra pit.

PEANUT VENDORS Russell and Greenfield contributed to the mass mayhem of the faculty's theatrical attempt. After the show Dr. Thomas, Dr. Carroll, and Prof. Wolff collected pennies which had been thrown on stage, while peanuts were picked up to be saved for next year and another faculty show.

MOTHER DOLLY KOEHLER pointed out lines to Little Mary Patty Tripp and Father Charlie Mendell, as the Brown family checked the script before curtain time. Awaiting the cue for her grand entrance was mink and diamond bedecked Miriam Nicholson Vivian Vandervere, billed as "the vamp" of the show.

A LARGE AND ENTHUSIASTIC crowd attended Rollins' initial attempt at name band entertainment. Presenting the innovations of the Sauter-Finegan orchestra, the 1954 Fiesta became the first to attempt such a feat. It was the successful climax of months of intensive preparation. Students, faculty, and townspeople all joined in to support and enjoy the '54 Fiesta.

UNDER THE DIRECTION of Harry Chauncey, committee chairmen scanned the final report of the successful 1954 Fiesta. Instrumental in the planning of the weekend were Jerry Faulkner, Dick Quillen, Bill Karslake, Jim Bocook, Jane Laverty, Jim Davis, Harry Chauncey, Steph Swicegood, Dan Matthews, Jackie Chiappari, and Gloria Steudel. They were assisted by representatives of the campus social groups, and members of the faculty who acted as advisors and sponsored the Saturday afternoon melodrama in the Fred Stone.

Spotlight On Elections

STUDENTS WENT TO THE POLLS to take their choice of sixteen candidates who vied for Student Council and Publications posts. Just before election day, the candidates for the major offices were given an opportunity to air their views and answer student queries over the facilities of WPRK. When the returns came in Dan Matthews was congratulated as the incumbent Student Council President, while Bill Karslake and Cyndy Wellenkamp were placed on his executive board as Vice President and Secretary.

The week before elections the campus was bathed in a rainbow of eye-catching slogans, pictures, and even caricatures. Candidates for the six contested offices began their campaigns and unchallenged nominees breathed a sigh of relief as the ballot lists were announced.

Tension mounted, a committee was chosen to count ballots, and then it was all over. Up in the Carnegie Hall offices of the Sandspur, Chuck Lambeth got the nod as Editor and was immediately set to work writing editorials. Diane Herblin and Jim Robinson, newly-elected Advertising Commissioner and Business Manager, grabbed for the list of unpaid bills.

In the Tomokan office, Sis Atlass received word that she would be responsible for the 1955 yearbook. Ross Fleischmann, the new Business Manager, got into a huddle with the out-going manager and started to set the budget.

Jim Graaskamp received the news that he was the new Editor of the Flamingo and began campaigning all over again, this time for national advertising. Jo Cayll and Winkie Colado, the elected Editors for the 1955 R Book, grabbed the old student handbook to check on the date upon which they would take over.

While the all-college winners were waiting for the returns, the social groups were setting their executive lineups for the coming year. The women's groups elected President: Alpha Phi, Nat Rice; Chi O, Ginny Carroll; Gamma Phi, Sis Atlass; Independent Women, Shirley Miller; Kappa, Connie Shields; Phi Mu, Alison Dessau; Pi Phi, Yvonne Oliver; and Theta, Nancy Corse. The Stray Greeks selected Ronnie Butler as prexy for the coming year, while on fraternity row the men's groups elected their leaders: Delta Chi, Frank Ledgerwood; Independent Men, Phil Murray; Kappa Alpha, Skip Voelkel; Lambda Chi, Chuck Hartmann; Sigma Nu, Gene Bryant; and X Club, Bruce Remsberg.

A POTENTIAL VOTER checked the posters before entering the Center to mark the ballot. Dan Matthews presented his platform for presidency of the student body at an all-college meeting. Meanwhile, his opponent, Tom LeClere reviewed his "I promise that if elected . . ." notes before stepping to the rostrum.

ROLLINS PLAYERS' Advisor Professor Dorsett spoke to Chairmon Horry Chouncey, Prof. Boiley, Jock Rondolph, Mrs. Miriom Nicholson, Kothy Vockroth, Prof. Allen, Louis Ingrom, Jerry O'Brien, Joon Jennings, Bobbie Spencer, Cormen Lompe, Corleton Clork, ond Sunny Dorwitt.

For the third time in the last faur years the Tars brought home the State Crawn. It was a seasoned team that turned out early in March for conditioning. March 22nd to March 27th was designated as baseball week and the Tars faced such formidable teams as Ohio State, Amherst, Georgia Tech, North Carolina, and Clemsan. The Tars came aut on top, as the venture drew large crowds at Harper Shepherd field for the 5-day periad. It is expected to be an annual occurrence in years to come.

Highlights of the season were the two impressive victories over the U. of Florida Gators, two over Centre, and two victories aver the Stetson Hatters. In addition to these were the Miami games where the Justicemen captured 3 of 4.

In an array of stars perhaps the biggest credit far the successful year goes to southpaw ace Bill Cary who once again proved his mastery over opposing batsmen while running up a 6-1 record an the year. Bill was used whenever there was a big one to be won and, as in previous years, came through with the needed victory. His superb control and knowledge of hitters enabled him to post an earned run average of 1.57 per game, which again stamped him as one of the leading pitchers in the South. Bill was ably backed up on the maund by little Art Brophy who continued his string of victories in callege competition to 8. Art pitched brilliantly to compile a 5-0 record to keep his status of having never lost a college game.

Calling the pitches was Don Finnigan, rugged Tar catcher. Besides more than filling his clean-up position, he was outstanding in defensive play. His strong arm and baseball experience were a definite factor in th winning season.

In the hitting department the name af Connie Mac Butler stands alone. It was the big left fielder's bo that broke up mare than ane ball game and sent op posing pitchers to the showers shaking their heads ar talking ta themselves. Connie led the team in almo every department, but it was his towering drives ove the new fence at Harper Shepherd that he was mo noted for. He accounted far a total of 7 hame run and before he graduates in 1955 he will prabably in crease that number considerably.

Midway in the season the Tars lost their fine ke stane combination via the injury route. Nick Vanch suffered a broken ankle during a game with Flaric Southern and Fred Talbot, the dependable second base man, was forced out with a fractured thumb. Jim Darc then filled the gap at short, Tom Hulihan capably hand ling the chares at second.

The Tars claimed five all staters: Braphy, Cary, Bu ler, Talbot, and Finnigan. Cary and Butler were als placed on the All-Southern team. N.C.A.A. district fina were June 5-6, the Tars playing Virginia Polytechnic In stitute, winning the first 2 games 3-0, 9-3 ta end th playoff. Cary pitched the first game, a 5 hit shutou Cannie Butler came through again with a hame ru Brophy hurled the second game, a 6 hitter with Butle and MacHardy both hitting home runs. After the la game the Tars headed far the National Finals in Omah There they took second place after losing their last gam with Missouri, 4-1. stretched for the long throw from third on a close decision at the initial sack.

TAR BATTER Art Brophy got set for the delivery from a Tampa righthander in the home game of a series with the Spartans.

OHIO STATE reserves looked on as their squad tangled with the Tars during Baseball Week at Harper Shepherd. Rollins played host to five teams during the week, featuring 15 intersectional tilts in eight days of doubleheaders.

UP IN THE AIR and into the water, as the coxswain of the winning crew received the traditional dunking. Coach U. T. Bradley again instructed both varsity and J.V. shells.

State Championship For Crew

"I know we are not in the same class as Wisconsin, but this one could be close," said Coach U. T. "Brad" Bradley as the 1954 Tars opened their crew schedule. The race referred to was an exhibition contest in which the Rollins eight was pitted against a Badger crew which had held the 1951 National Rowing crown. After much controversy as to conference regulations the Tars dropped their opener to the Bodger shell including a Florida Southern coxswain.

In an early-season defeat at the hands of Boston University Rollins broke the course record for the mile and three-sixteenths course with a 5:38. B.U. came across the line in this one in 5:34.5.

After three disappointing opening races the Tors began to pull and took their first win from Amherst on April 1. As the season began to take shape the Rollins eight hit their stride ond had a 4-4 win-loss record going into the Florido State Championship Regotto at Lakeland, which they then won over Tampa and Southern.

Traveling to Philadelphia in May, the varsity crew entered the Dad Voil Regatta, taking second place for the sixth time in seven years, losing to Dartmouth in the field of five.

Members of the crew were Jim Robinson, Bill Karslake, Dick Potter, John Thibodeau, Bud Bilensky, Don Weber, Frank Thompson, Norm Gross and Joe Dallanegra. The J.V. crew prepared for the start of their race as the varsity men carried their shell from the crew shack. Manning the J.V. shell for '54 were Gene Bryant, John Boyle, Ross Fleischmann, Bill Wright, Pete Adams, Mike Momolen, Lee Beard, Bob Dollison, and Louis Fusaro.

WATCHING from the bench, Alfreda saw Chuck Warden put ane af his forceful serves aver the net.

The Rallins tennis team completed anather successful year under the guidance af Jim McDaugall. Their recard was marred only by a dauble lass ta Miami, the state champions, and a defeat at the hands af Narth Caralina.

The squad was ance again led by veteran Alfreda Millet, Mexican Davis Cupper. Alberta Danel, alsa af Mexica, played well in the number twa pasitian, teaming with Millet ta keep their undefeated recard in college competition intact.

The Garcia brathers, Nana and Memo, farmer Natianal Juniar Champs af Chile, were impressive individually and particularly autstanding in daubles play. Adding a necessary punch ta the Tar line-up were sophamares Geargе Langshore, fram Annistan, Alabama; Chuck Warden, Jr., transfer fram U. af Tenn.; letterman Ed Scheer, and freshman Guy Filasaf. Paul Driscall, Canada's contributian ta the squad, raunded aut the raster.

Althaugh the Netters stand to lase Millet, Danel and Scheer thraugh graduatian, hapes are high fo just as successful a seasan next year.

In spite af the fact that the Tars last the State Championship ta a strang Miami team, they still rank in the tap ten teams in the country.

LUCKY ENOUGH NOT TO HAVE CLASSES, STUDENTS SPENT ANOTHER SUNNY AFTERNOON WATCHING THE TARS PLAY AN EXCITING MATCH.

SATURDAY AFTERNOONS found Tar golfers practicing their strokes on the Dubsdread course. Denny, Stew, and Stew checked Bruce's drive, while Bill and Ed eyed Marlene, only female star of the men's varsity golf team.

Hampered by a shortage of seasoned players, the Tar golfers experienced a rather disappointing season. Only three of last year's lettermen, Bill Boggess, Bruce Remsberg, and Denny Folken returned. They were joined by Stew Ledbetter, transfer from Stanford where he played on the N.C.A.A. championship team; Ed Dinga, long-hitting freshman from New York; and Stew Maples, another freshman. About mid-season, a needed shot in the arm was provided by Miss Marlene Stewart. Marlene, a sophomore from Fonthill, Ontario, Canada, is British Women's Open champ and holds numerous other titles. Canada's Outstanding Woman Athlete participated in the last six matches, winning the majority of them against strong male competition.

The outstanding round of the season was Bill Boggess' sparkling 65 against the University of Georgia. Bill's good shots and fine putting led him through an excellent season. The first match of the year was a quadruple meet featuring competition between Florida State, Miami, Stetson, and Rollins. Although the Tars beat every team individually, they lost on total points to the Miami squad. During the remainder of the season the Tars beat Stetson twice, split with Florida State and lost to Florida and Georgia. Rollins made a poor showing in both the Florida and Southern Intercollegiates, although Bill Boggess gained seventh place in the state meet.

Coach Dan Nyimicz considered this season one to be chalked up to experience and predicted a more successful season for next year.

CRUSHER deCarville slid in to score at home as Ted Dittmer awaited a throw from the outfield.

Men's intramurals came to a close spring term with the X Club again claiming the championship trophy.

The golf division went to X Club with Harry Chauncey, Dick McFarlain, Jack Powell, Connie Butler and Jim Bocook playing the matches.

The Delta Chi's won softball and their pitcher Don Anderson was voted most valuable player. Those on the All-Star team were Don Anderson, John deCarville, Harvey Weisenburg, George Miller, Jim Bocook, John Joy, Dick Quillen, Jerry Sprayregen, and Jerry Campbell. Softball was very close with X Club and Indies splitting the second place honors. The highlight of the season was a game between the Club and Delta Chi which ran 14 innings, Don Anderson pitching for the Delt's and Bruce Remsberg for the Club. The final score saw the Delta Chi's ahead 2 to 1.

WHO WILL serve first in the Phi Mu-Theta volleyball game? Sara Jane flipped a coin as Sheila and Marie looked on.

Kappa Alpha Theta successfully defended its Women's Intramural Championship, winning for the third consecutive year to retire the beautiful O'Brien trophy. The Theta's took first place honors in basketball, tennis, and golf, second in softball and volleyball, and acquired enough points in all the other sports to win the number one spot in the final tabulation.

The Pi Phi's finished strongly in the spring term, winning two firsts and a second to finish second in the over-all standings. They beat the defending Theta's by two points in a thrilling volleyball game when both teams were undefeated. By virtue of their fine season, they placed four girls, Barb Moynahan, Barbi Berno, Sandy Taylor, and Carmen Lampe, on the honorary varsity team.

The Alpha Phi's sailed to an undefeated record on the softball diamond. Bobbie Feidt, pitcher, and Nat Rice, shortstop, both outstanding players, sparked their team throughout the victorious season.

The Independent Women, with their two archers Margaret Lawcock and Pat McCamey, were victorious in the archery meet. Both girls shot over 200 in the qualifying round, which enabled them to win the trophy.

Marlene Stewart won her second intramural golf championship for the Theta's, winning over Kappa Barb Bremerman in the finals.

Ending up the season, the swimming meet held in Lake Virginia proved to be one of the best competitive events of the year. The first place honors were fairly evenly divided between Alpha Phi, Pi Phi, and Kappa. With the combined efforts of Barb Moynahan and Mary Martin, the Pi Phi's finally tallied enough points by winning the final relay, to edge out the Alpha Phi's. Four girls, Pi Phi's Barb Moynahan and Mary Martin, Alpha Phi Sid Kromer, and Kappa Betty Brook, were selected for the honorary varsity for their performances in the meet.

After the close of the intramural season, the women's R Club selected eight new members to be tapped on Honors Day; Sis Atlass, Gail Donaldson, Carol Farquharson, Barb Moynahan, Marie Perkins, Nat Rice, and Marlene Stewart.

Intramurals Won By Theta's . . .

and X Club

The Kappa Alphas were new intramural swimming champs. Jerry Griggs helped win the championship by taking the diving events. Gaining top individual honors for the K.A.'s was distance swimmer John Boyle, who won both the 100 yard and 220 yard free style events. It was in the 220 that they sewed up the meet as Pete Doran passed Sam Barley of Delta Chi at the midway point of the race to give the K.A.'s both first and second places in the event, and a nine point lead just before the final event. John Allmand, Skillman Suydam and Mike Aufiero chalked up points helping the K.A.'s to their victory.

Looking back over the entire season; football was won by the Sigma Nu's, basketball by the X Club, tennis ended in a tie between Delta Chi and Kappa Alpha, volleyball honors went to X Club, golf was won by X Club, swimming champs were the Kappa Alpha's, crew was claimed by Sigma Nu and softball champs were the Delta Chi's. When the final points were tallied the X Club placed first with the Delta Chi's second and Sigma Nu's third.

JERRY GRIGGS won the diving crown for the Kappa Alpha Order.

BUDGETS were checked by R Book Editors Myra Brown and Jane Laverty, and Purchasing Agent Mr. Harold Mutispaugh, as another freshman handbook went to press.

AFTER PLACING as many seniors as possible in the business world, the six-month-old placement bureau tried to find summer employment for the Rollins undergrads. Ellen McPhee checked with Dr. Robbins and Miss Emily Merrill, while Don Riedel studied the various clippings which Dr. Greenhut had posted on the placement bureau's new bulletin board.

PUTTING ON THEIR SKIS, Paula Crandall and Bob Goddard got set for a doubles run around the lake. Mr. Suydam gave a few pointers to Joanne Benson, Sally Nye and Louie Ingram to groom them for the State Intercollegiate Water Ski Championship. Marie Saute and Sally Evinrude adjusted their skis before heading for the lake for an hour's practice.

Rollins Women Take State Skiing Title

SKILLMAN SUYDAM skimmed across the water in a 360 turn on one ski as he took top honors in the trick event competition.

The Rollins ski team returned from the Intercollegiate Water Ski Championship with one win and one loss. Joanne Benson won the women's trick riding and Sally Evinrude took second in the women's slalom. Nancy Siebens, Jean Pennington and Marie Saute helped to chalk up points for the Rollins victors.

The Rollins men finished third behind Florida Southern despite first places in the slalom and trick events entered by Skillman Suydam. Bob Goddard, Louie Ingram and Bob Finney were runners-up in the other events.

107 Graduates

GEORGE W. ANDERSON

Rt. #1, Box 25-B

Orlando, Florida

George is a local Orlando student who transferred from Orlando Junior College to Rollins, graduating in June with a major in accounting. George's friendly manner brought him to the attention of the Sigma Nu fraternity which pledged him in '52. The Navy has first call on his future, and immediately after graduation he will receive a commission in the U. S. Navy Reserve and report for two years' service on the high seas. Upon his discharge he plans to return to college for graduate work.

DONALD W. ANDERSON

#3 Country Aire

Clayton 24, Missouri

Don completed his fourth year at Rollins in June, graduating as a history major, his plans for the future including the University of Colorado's excellent geology program. As a member of the Delta Chi fraternity, Don lent his athletic powers to the Delt's intramural teams in football, basketball, swimming, and baseball, where he was one of the hottest pitchers in the league. As a result of his remarkable performances and his good sportsmanship in intramural sports, Don was chosen Chairman of the Men's Intramural Board.

EDWARD H. ANGIER

1375 Drew Street

Clearwater, Florida

Ed, a Spanish major, has done quite a bit of extra-curricular work in the language field. He was listed on the roster of the French, Pan American and German Clubs and served as Treasurer of the latter group. A member of the Chapel Choir for two years, Ed also sang with the Bach Choir and the Rollins Singers group. He took part in the Annie Russell musicals, "Trial by Jury" and "Dawn in the Valley." Ed served as Secretary of his fraternity, Alpha Phi Lambda, in 1952, and as its President in 1953. He also participated in the softball, volleyball, golf and tennis intramural programs.

SAMUEL B. BARLEY

1053 North Avenue

Millvale 9, Pennsylvania

A pre-med student, Sam has further prepared himself for a medical career through such extra-curricular work as being a member of the German Club, serving as Vice President of the Rollins Scientific Society, and working as an assistant in the biology laboratory. A member of Delta Chi fraternity, Sam represented his group on the Welcoming Committee this fall, and was a member of the Glee Club. He became quite a shutterbug and could often be seen snapping pictures for the Tomokan. When he put his camera down, the Sandspur staff shoved a pen his way and gave the order for a cartoon or two. A sports fan, Sam was especially partial to water activities, being a member of the JV crew, and taking part in several aquatic shows and intramural swimming programs.

KAZEM H. BARAKAT

28 Rue Adly Pascha

Cairo, Egypt

Kazem came half-way around the world to attend Rollins, for his home is in Cairo, Egypt. His winning ways soon won him membership in the X Club, and he defended the fraternity's honor with enthusiasm in intramural football and swimming. Kaz also spent many hours as varsity basketball and baseball manager, winning his "R," and later becoming Treasurer of the R Club. Because of his interest in the college he was elected to membership in O.O.O.O., a men's honorary organization, while his linguistic abilities brought him to the French Club. Kaz graduated as a major in general human relations, with no immediate plans for the future.

He played intramural football, softball, and tennis for Sigma Nu, while winning the coveted "R" in varsity basketball and in his specialty, varsity crew, making him a member of the R Club. The Sigma Nu's elected Don to the position of Secretary, and the Senior Class recognized his ability when it chose him as Vice President. His further activity in the Student Council, the O.O.O.O.'s and the German Club gave him a wealth of information to draw on when he traveled to various Florida high schools as a spokesman for the admissions department. In the future Don is planning to enter the Naval Officers Training School, or if possible, go directly to graduate school.

JEROME C. WOOD

1029 Topinabee Road

Niles, Michigan

Jidge comes from the ski country up in Michigan, which may account for his dexterity on the water skis of the south. He graduates in June as a major in general human relations after an active four years at Rollins. As a member of the Delta Chi fraternity, he masterminded the Delt's intramural program, particularly in football, basketball, and softball as well as swimming. His interest in athletics made him a natural choice for the Intramural Board and he represented the Student Council on the Student Faculty Disciplinary Committee. Jidge also took a fling at the stage in the play, "The Corn Is Green," and was a member of the Glee Club and Senior Skip Day Committee. In the summers Jidge has been training in the Marine Officers School, receiving his commission this summer so that the service has first call on his immediate future.

DONALD R. VASSAR

1625 North Curson Avenue

Hollywood, California

Philosophy being his major, Don had any number of other interests including music, the theatre, and college film groups. Music led him to the Chapel Choir, the Bach Choir, and the Student Music Guild while the allure of theotre arts prompted him to spend many hours at the Annie Russell and Fred Stone theatres where he served at one time or another os actor, switchboard technician, and sound effects man. This last interest brought him to WPRK where he became a qualified engineer. For his theatre arts work, Don was made a member of the Rollins Players and the Theta Alpha Phi group, while winning recognition for his scholarship in the honor groups, Pi Gamma Mu and the Rollins Key Society, of which he was Secretary.

DONALD A. WILSON

961 South Highland Drive

Dearborn, Michigan

Don came to Rollins from Dearborn, Michigan, by way of the University of Miami where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Don is often called "Cannonball" on compus because of his interest in speedboats, a hobby which brought him national recognition in the inboard competition. Don careened through intramural footboll as a member of the X Club aggregotion, os well as playing intramural basketball and softball. His degree in business administration reflects his participation in campus affairs for he was Comptroller for the Student Council, Fiesta Finance Chairman, and Treosurer of the X Club. Don also represented the Club on the Interfraternity Council while working with the O.O.O.O.'s and belonging to the honor group, Lambda Kappa Pi. Graduate school is Don's future plan.

WILLIAM H. WRIGHT

660 Killarney Circle

Winter Park, Florida

Bill transferred to Rollins from Orlando Junior College, possibly on the assumption he could save wear-and-tear on his blue '38 Ford, in commuting between school and his home in Winter Park. Pledging Delta Chi, Bill lent his lanky frame to the Delt's cause in intramural football, volleyball, basketball, and softball while becoming something of a specialist in crew. Not only did he row for the fraternity, but he also pulled a strong oar for the junior varsity crew. Bill wos a member of good standing in the Glee Club but on the subject of future plans, he hits a sour note, expecting to be drafted before he can put his degree in business administrotion to work.

Lonely and stronge in its emptiness, the deserted loggia shows cleorly thot onother year ot Rollins hos run its course. Closses, porties ond activities hove been tempororily set oside in lieu of summer vocotions ond jobs for the frosh, sophs, ond juniors, while for the '54 grods the loggio will remoin quiet forever. This Tomokon, however, hos gone from month to month copturing the highlights of 1953-54 in words ond pictures, in on effort to keep this yeor olive in the heorts ond minds of the Rollins Fomily. Through the seoson—curriculum, conferences, clossrooms, committees, choruses, curfews, crews, chopel, commencement, compus cut-ups ond college copers—from July through June—every port of the Rollins yeor hos been recorded os it happened. Whether or not it wos your porticulor Pelicon or your porticulor porty is not importont; the events were chosen for their obility to best represent the life on this compus this yeor. The moin thing, therefore, is not whot hos been shown, but what these things bring to mind. This hos been Rollins '54!

Been Very Interesting!

Publications trials and tribulations were often resolved in darkraam brawls. Cameraman Fusara never missed a chance to "get the picture" as Directar Huntingtan and Apprentice Brawn struggled valiantly ta separate Editars Mattax and Lee. The library staff sipping tea and cakes in the next raam shook their heads in vain aver the primitive antics of the publicatian heads. In their apinian the anly business af the P.U. was strictly monkey business.

The bulk af the Tamakan's photagraphy was praduced by faur avid shutterbugs: Lyman, Lauie, Bruce, and Marcia. Ol' Dad Huntingtan gave every picture—and every subject—his full attention. When reminded af his many years af service via a Box Brawnie Birthday Cake, Lyman reacted with vialence. But guests Bruce, Marcia, Lauie, and Myra expressed anly unrepressed enthusiasm at the praspect af the happy accasian.

As deadlines drew near Bruce spent many haurs buried in Dektal developer in an effart to help Marcia turn aut the '54 editian. A brisk bath before Beans was in arder several nights after the strenuaus business af the darkraam. Meanwhile Marcia struggled hapelessly with mauntains af equipment, while Lauie made ane last futile search far a needed negative. And sa the staff left the affice for the last time at 4:00 A.M.—gaad night, Mr. Chadwick, and gaad marning, Mrs. Fitz!
